Alejandro, we all hope you are able to remain happy no matter where you are now; just as you did in your life

LIFE

Alejandro Barrios Martinez was 21 at the time of his death, he was one of the younger victims. He was described as an outgoing person, a happy and charismatic person, and a good son, brother, and friend. He “always had a smile on his face,” according to what Saria Torres, a friend, told The Orlando Sentinel. He had recently gotten a new job, which he celebrated by going to the Pulse nightclub. He frequented Pulse nightclub, and he had friends who also went yet were fortunate enough not to be there on the night of the shooting. There is still residual pain within his family, friends, and partner, but he will be remembered as a person with a truly positive disposition.

AMENDMENT

Alejandro Barrios Martinez was senselessly killed with weapons which were easily acquired legally at a gun store. His death is one of many which could have been prevented with stricter gun laws. Even regulating guns in an equal way to that of cars would still be a major improvement over what we have today. It should be mandated that you should require a specifically regulated license in order to be able to buy a gun.

STATISTIC

Another senseless death.
